

UNDERSTANDING CARBON

Webinar

VG09152 Australian Vegetable Industry Carbon Footprint Tool: Grower Adoption and Education

About the program:

'Understanding Carbon' is a FREE training program that has been designed for the Australian vegetable industry. It's envisaged the training will give growers a clearer understanding of carbon footprinting: what it means to them as a farmer and a business owner, how they can prepare for carbon accounting, and the benefits of carbon accounting to them and their business. Growers will also be taught about the changes they can make to ensure they have a more sustainable farm and business. The training will be delivered via seminars in each state, as well as online via webinars. The program has been developed as a lead in to the introduction of a carbon calculator, designed specifically for the vegetable industry, which will be released later this year. The training program has been funded by Horticulture Australia and Woolworths Supermarkets.

National Webinars:

PLEASE NOTE: The 'Understanding Carbon' webinar series has come to an end for May.

Additional dates will be scheduled as demand requires from mid-June onwards.

* ALL webinars will start at 7.00pm ACST (Adelaide time)

To register your interest:

To register: email your name, State, contact number and occupation to info@arris.com.au.

PLEASE NOTE: The presentation will be run online using 'Go-To-Meeting', with sound to be provided via teleconference.

Prior to the webinar you will be sent an invitation via email which will include full details on how to log in to the webinar.

For more information contact:

Bridget Merrett

Arris

bmerrett@arris.com.au

p: 8303 6705

m: 0409 532 380

Know-how for Horticulture™